Use Of Atomic Weapons Laid Aside In Korea

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The use of atomic weapons in Korea was reported today to have been given serious consideration by U. S. military leaders but to have been laid aside for the present.

The question of using such weapons was one of the reasons for the recent hurried trip to Tokyo and the battlefield by Gen. Omar Bradley, a well-informed government source told a reporter.

Truman Final Authority

Bradley recommended against use of A-bombs at this time, because he regarded the prospects for a Korean truce as brighter, said this source, who declined to be quoted by name.

Bradley, in addition to being chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, is by law the principal military adviser of the president. Thus it may be presumed his recommendation was conveyed to President Truman who, by terms of the atomic energy act, is the final authority for use of the bomb by the armed forces.

At a news conference last Nov. 30, the president said there has always been active consideration of the A-bomb's use but that he did not want to see it used because it is a terrible weapon.

In addition to whatever political policies may have entered the current decision to hold atomic weapons in leash pending further truce negotiations, military considerations probably were involved.

Green Rain Predicted This Month West Of Tokyo By Scientists

TOKYO — (AP) — Green rain will fall late this month 185 miles west of Tokyo. That's a promise from a scientist.

The Kansai Power Company's reservoirs are low in Fukui, Toyama and Nagano prefectures.

The company has hired Dr. Sunesaburo Asada doctor of science at Osaka university, to seed clouds over the Toyama area with dry ice or silver iodide crystals as an experiment.

Dr. Asada will tuck in the green just by way of proving the rain to his.

Wild Crowd Stages Anti-Foreign Riot In Streets Of Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — A wild crowd armed with stones and clubs surged through the downtown streets of Cairo today, attacking western business houses in a frenzy of anti-foreign rioting.

The outbreak sprang from Prime Minister Mustapha El Nahas Pascha's denunciation of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty and his bid to chase all British troops off Egyptian soil.

Pop Trucks Wrecked

The rest of the Arab world meanwhile joined Egypt in full support behind his plans to drive Britain out of its Suez Canal encampments and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

America's Star Farmer Only 21

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Harold Dwayne Hodgson is only 21 but he's already written an American success story on the bleak hill land of northwest Oklahoma.

In 1949 he married his high school sweetheart and borrowed enough money to buy a rundown farm.

Yesterday he was named the 1951 star farmer of America.

The honor is the top award of the future farmers of America organization. A check for $1,000 goes with it. The award is presented annually at the F. F. A. convention.

Hodgson's bought his 320-acre farm for $8,500. Now it's valued at $14,400. His livestock investment totals about $10,000. Farm machinery, buildings, and other equipment runs about $7,200.

The Oklahoman has the land raising good crops of wheat and sorghums and providing pasture for purebred Herefords.

All Egyptian factions appeared united behind the government's decision to cancel its alliance with Britain.

Truman Memorial Fund-Raising Letter Irks White House

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — A letter soliciting funds for a Harry S. Truman Memorial library and mentioning the possibility of tax savings for those donating brought a sharp rejoinder from the White House.

"What the newspaper quotes is a review I made of a report by the business committee of the National Planning association prepared by Beardsey Rumel, New York tax economist, and Theodore Geiger, chief economist of the National Planning association.

"Rumel pointed out that it is wise for corporations to give contributions to a university or to a research organization—and I am sure he would have added the Harry S. Truman library had he thought of it—than to spend the money on advertising or public relations."

The Post-Dispatch listed Anderson as chairman of a finance committee formed to solicit funds for a $1,000,000 library to be built at Grandview, Mo.

Canada Stages Lavish Parties For Royal Pair

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

OTTAWA — (P) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh led the royal tour into Canada's capital city today and plunged immediately into a program of lavish entertainment by the Dominion's dignitaries.

Highlight of the day's program—and most important "vip" function of the entire Canadian tour—was tonight's state dinner at government House with the governor general, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, and his lady presiding, and top officials and the diplomatic corps attending.

Among Friends

The schedule called for a 10 a. m. start as the royal train pulled into Union Station where the governor general was to meet the royal party. An appearance in a local park and a wreath-laying at a National War Memorial were next on the program for the couple's two-day stay here.

Last night in Quebec the brunette heiress presumptive to the British throne and her blond husband were honored at a dinner by Quebec's Prime Minister Maurice L'Upsilon. Responding to his toast, the princess confessed to "a feeling of strangeness, the strangeness of the unknown" when she first glimpsed Canada on Monday.

Someone had thrown a firecracker from an Immobilia balcony into a crowd of demonstrators marching in orderly fashion below.

No one was injured by the explosive but its loud roar interrupted the crowd.

It swarmed into the courtyard, heaving stones. Several men wielding clubs attempted to force an entrance. They failed to get in and the crowd of several hundred dispersed.

Mobs Dispersed

The Immobilia contains offices of a number of American firms, including the Associated Press and the Superior Oil company.

A few minutes after the crowd broke away from the buildings, an excited group of young Egyptians, accompanied by two policemen, knocked on the bolted door of the AP office.

They demanded an office messenger by name and the police marched off with him.

The crowds which attacked the two soft drink trucks turned one truck over and grabbed bottles to use as missiles.

"Down with Britain, up with Egypt," the rioters shouted.

Police reinforcements rushed to the scene of the riots and had some difficulty dispersing the crowds. The mob finally broke up into small groups and went off.

Steel-helmeted police, wielding clubs, patrolled the main Cairo streets. Shopkeepers hurriedly lowered their shutters.

All Egyptian factions appeared united behind the government's decision to cancel its alliance with Britain.

Illness Delays Iran Oil Case

NEW YORK — (AP) — One by one, a Brooklyn mother dropped four of her children three stories into a blanket held by neighbors yesterday as fire destroyed their apartment building.

Then she collapsed and died in the flames before help could reach her.

Mrs. Irma Randall, 35-year-old Negro, shouted to passersby when she discovered the fire. Then she calmly tossed out the blanket, followed by the children, aged 18 months to eight years.

But the blanket was too flimsy for her to risk a jump, and the flames kept a neighbor from reaching her. Firemen arrived with a ladder too late.

An explosion and fire at a farm house near Atlanta, Neb., took the lives of Mrs. Walter Leach and her four children, aged two to six.

In Emore, Va., a babysitter went to a store and left three Negro children — Barbara Ann, Burnice and Peggy Jean Christian — locked in their home. The youngsters, aged seven months to three years, died in a fire that broke out just as the babysitter, Marquette Smith, 17, arrived at the store.

Murder And Suicide End Argument For Detroit Man And Wife

DETROIT — (P) — George Butte, 63, wanted to sell his home in Detroit and go live in the Masonic home for the aged in Alma.

But his wife, Clare, 64, objected to the plan. Neighbors said they argued about it frequently.

And this, police said today, apparently led to a murder and a suicide.

The bodies of the two were found in their home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Butte, police said, had been strangled with a cord from a heating pad. Butte's body was found a few feet away with his throat slashed.

Lake High Enough

HOUGHTON — (P) — The Houghton county board of supervisors today urged state and federal authorities to act to prevent any further rise in lake levels. The supervisors passed a resolution to this effect after lake shore property owners cited increasing property damage due to high waters and petitioned the supervisors to act.

New Site Selected To Resume Korea Cease-Fire Negotiations

MUNSAN, Korea — (P) — Liaison officers today picked a site near Panmunjom for resuming Korean truce talks.

The spot is six air miles southeast of Kaesong where cease-fire negotiations first began three months ago today. The talks were broken off by the Reds Aug. 23.

Another meeting of Allied and Red liaison officers at Panmunjom was scheduled for 10 a. m. tomorrow (8 p. m. Wednesday EST).

Uncle Bill Aims Digs At Soapy

DETROIT — (P) — Gov. G. Menen Williams' Uncle Bill was in town today and, being a Republican, he indulged in a little leg-pulling at the expense of his Democratic nephew.

Uncle Bill is William G. Menen, president of the Menen Co., of New Jersey.

The soap executive explained he came to Michigan "to look around" for likely animals for "Hideaway," his purebred stock farm.

He attended an Aberdeen-Angus cattle sale at the Great Oaks stock farms in nearby Rochester yesterday. He wore a gay vest and carried a stockman's gold-ruffled cane.

Uncle Bill showed he had a knack of getting along with farmers just like his nephew. There were about 200 buyers and onlookers at the sale. Uncle Bill relied on "cow talk," a friendly hand grip and a laugh that had farmers gathering around him.

"I'm a Republican, but I'm not here trying to reform my nephew," said Uncle Bill.

He was asked about a recent strike that shut down Menen Co.'s operations at Newark for six weeks. It was called by the AFL United Auto Workers to get union recognition. Gov. Williams is a director of the company.

"He (the Governor) seemed more worried than I am," said Uncle Bill. "Probably because of that 'poor little rich boy' talk in his campaigns."

Heirs Of Mrs. Norton Threaten Suit Against John P. Norton Estate

Heirs of the late Mrs. John P. Norton through counsel last night informed the Escanaba board of education that suit against the John P. Norton estate is contemplated, but an "amicable settlement" will be considered.

The heirs of Mrs. Norton are represented by Atty. Robert E. LeMire.

The board of education referred Atty. LeMire to special administrators of the Norton estate and advised him the board is in no position to take any action in the matter.

Interest In Newspaper

Special administrators of the John Norton estate are Atty. James E. Frost and Juel Lee.

Heirs of Mrs. Norton "feel that legally and morally they have an interest in the newspaper," Atty. LeMire told the school board.

The newspaper is the Escanaba Daily Press, founded by John P. Norton, and part of his estate bequeathed to the Escanaba board of education to establish a scholarship fund in memory of his wife.

Mrs. Norton taught school for 40 years and thought through the years she owned one-half of the newspaper, a belief shared by her brothers and sisters, Atty. LeMire.

The board of education referred Atty. LeMire to special administrators of the Norton estate and advised him the board is in no position to take any action in the matter.

Her Estate Small

The heirs of Mrs. Norton are her brother and sisters, Katherine C. Pellow, Neaguene; Helen C. Parsons, Lucy C. Nelson, Escanaba; Genevieve C. Harrison, Detroit; and Ralph Carroll, Escanaba.

Atty. LeMire told the board the heirs were "astonished" when her estate amounted to but $11,000. Following her death and later the death of Mr. Norton the house, owned by Mrs. Norton, was sold for $29,100, increasing her estate to approximately $42,000.

Under law one-half of her estate will go to the John P. Norton estate, which will leave her heirs "one-half or about $18,000" after taxes and other costs, Atty. LeMire said.

Settlement Suggested

Counsel for the heirs informed the board that he has been instructed to start suit "and carry it to the supreme court if necessary."

"I feel a poor settlement is better than a good law suit," Atty. LeMire said.

He suggested to the board an "amicable settlement" in which the John P. Norton estate would waive its one-half interest in Mrs. Norton's estate, and pay "possibly $20,000 or $25,000 more."

The heirs would like to know "within the near future" if the board would consider a settlement, he added.

Pointing out that all matters pertaining to the John Norton estate are in the hands of the special administrators, the board referred Atty. LeMire to them.

One Settlement Made

As early as August, 1950, special administrators of the John Norton estate had objected to the appointment of Ralph Carroll as administrator of Mrs. Norton's estate, charging that he and other heirs of Mrs. Norton planned to claim a portion of the John Norton estate.

The John Norton estate was cleared of litigation Monday when circuit court approved a $3,000 settlement to heirs of John Norton who had contested the validity of the will.

In the settlement Mack and Charles Norton, brothers, and Thomas Norton, nephew, each received $1,000.

Judge Glenn W. Jackson then directed that the Norton estate be referred to probate court for probate in accordance with the provisions of the will.

The John Norton estate, estimated in value at approximately $500,000 was bequeathed almost in entirety to the board of education to establish a scholarship fund for deserving Escanaba high school graduates.

Explain Student Council Program

School Board Hears Council Officers

Escanaba senior high school student council officers and advisors last night presented to the board of education a report on its program and functions, recognized as one of the outstanding student organizations in the Upper Peninsula.

Reporting to the board were Council President Barbara O'Donnell, Vice President Con Michaels, and Secretary Nancy Ostman.

The student council is organized in pattern after Escanaba city government, including student representatives from the home rooms, a manager, and appointed department heads. Finance, activities, athletics, promotional, service and citizenship departments are established. Participation provides good citizenship training, the Council officers reported.

Advisors are B. B. Loveland and Miss Alice Potter of the senior high faculty.

Other business before the board included the following:

Received with appreciation a check for $200 from the Escanaba Kiwanis Club to help finance the hot lunch program.

Approved a request of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce retail committee to erect a nativity scene on the junior high school lawn at Christmas time.

Authorized a contract with Reiss Coal company, Cleveland Cliffs company and Delta Coal & Dock company to supply approximately 1,200 tons of stoker coal to the schools in the 1951-52 year. Coal is to meet heating specifications reported following analysis of samples.

Received a school enrollment report as of Sept. 30, 1951, as follows: Enrollment 1951-2,773; 1950-2,881; 1945-2,601; 1940-2,793; 1935-2,995; 1930-2,724.

Edward Chudacoff Opera 'Circus' To Be Presented

ANN ARBOR — Two one-act operas by student composers of the University of Michigan School of Music will be presented in Barbour Gym Sarah Caswell Angel Hall on Thursday, Oct. 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Operas to be given will be "The Brass Ring" by William D. Peterson, Plainville, Kansas, and "Circus" by Edward M. Chudacoff, 217 Chocolay, Munising.

"The Brass Ring" is concerned with a barker, Sam, who must find a new leading lady when Shaharazade quits his show. Jean, the girl he auditions, is dazzled by the future Sam paints but finds it difficult to choose between the boy she loves and the wonders of life with a carnival. Role of Sam will be taken by Robert Elson, 406 S. Third, Ishpeming; Jean, the Girl, by Grace Ravesloot, 15607 S. Park, Holland; and Archie Brown, 2326 Marlbord, Dearborn, will take the part of the Boy. The libretto is by Raymond G. Young, 285 Voorheis, Pontiac, staging by Daniel Waldron, R1, Big Rapids. The opera will be conducted by Robert Cogan, 945 Lakepointe, Grosse Pointe.

Chudacoff's opera, "Circus," will occupy the second half of the program. The opera tells the story of a circus clown tortured by the constant danger in which his beloved, a tightrope-walker, performs. He tries to stop her act but the ringmaster prevents him. He pleads with her, but she refuses to take him seriously. Finally, in desperation and madness, to find peace of mind, he kills her. The part of the ringmaster will be taken by James Fudge, 138 Oak-

Hire The Handicapped Often Aids Employers

This is "Hire the Handicapped" week across the nation—but for Russell C. Ross of 1018 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, it has special meaning.

Ross, World War II veteran, is one of thousands of disabled individuals who have proved to their employers that they are good workers despite disabilities that might cause some employers to think twice before hiring them.

It was on May 27, 1944, at Oran, North Africa, that Ross lost his left hand at the wrist and the middle index and ring fingers of his right hand in the explosion of a torpedo.

Civilian Life

There were many small wounds on his face and his eyes were injured. Following long months of treatment and surgery he was honorably discharged from service in June, 1945.

Then began another equally difficult task for Ross—that of retraining to a useful place in civilian life.

A helping hand was extended by the Veterans Administration. Vocational counseling and rehabilitation was followed by enrollment in on-the-job training as an auto mechanic.

Given Work Training

Counselors, in view of Ross' handicap, suggested another field—but Ross insisted he could perform the work of an automotive mechanic and told the VA that if they would not sanction such training he would go out and find a job for himself.

The result was that after further discussions Ross was enrolled in maintenance mechanic training.

Ross went to work March 16,

1948, in the city garage at Gladstone under the instruction of Chester Lynch, master mechanic for the city. The way had been cleared by H. J. Henrikson, city manager, with a recommendation to the Gladstone city commission.

Does The Impossible

Now Ross can do many things in maintenance work that he could not at first accomplish, and he is improving daily in his job.

"At the present time the veteran is performing duties that would seemingly be impossible with his disability," according to an Employment Security Commission report.

Today Ross is happy in his job and with life in general. To himself, his employer, and his family (including three children) he has proved that a disability is not necessarily an insurmountable handicap.

Bad Day Spoils Weather Report

Wind And Rain Swept District On 26th

One bad day in September marred an otherwise ideal fall month for the Escanaba district, according to the monthly weather report issued today by S. E. Decker, meteorologist here.

The flaw in the weather chart came on the 26th when winds from the southeast reached a maximum of 35 miles per hour and an inch of rain fell over the district.

The strong winds caused the waters of Little Bay de Noc to rise about two feet along the west shore with some damage to small boat docks and beaches. As the water rose, waves rolled across highway US-2 and 41 between Escanaba and Gladstone, hampering traffic and leaving debris on the road after a shift in the wind caused the waters to subside.

Total precipitation for the month was 3.77 inches, .45 above normal. There were 10 days without trace of rain during the month and the sun shone 211 hours out of a possible 376. The average temperature was 55.3.

Masterson Returns From AP Duty In Singapore

Tom Masterson, formerly of Gladstone, who has been serving as Associated Press correspondent in the Far East for several years, arrived in New York City from Singapore.

After conferring with AP headquarters in New York, he is expected to leave for Gladstone to visit with his mother, Mrs. William Masterson, 1212 Dakota avenue. Masterson is a brother of Helen Masterson, secretary at the University of Michigan Extension Service office in Escanaba.

Masterson, a graduate of the Gladstone high school and Notre Dame university, joined the Associated Press staff at Detroit in 1942. He worked previously with the Plymouth and Fond du Lac, Wis., newspapers.

Masterson was stationed in Shanghai and Peiping in 1946-47, and for a time was held as a hostage by Chinese Communists in Manchuria. The former Gladstone man and four other correspondents and two American army observers had been in Changchun, the Manchurian capital, in April, 1946, when it fell to the invading Communists. All were detained temporarily as hostages.

In 1948, Masterson was promoted from AP correspondent at Shanghai to head of the Southeast Asia bureau of the AP at Singapore. In this position, he was responsible for the coverage of news in the Malayas, Indo-China, Siam, Burma and Netherlands

Settlement Of Norton Estate Creates Large Scholarship Fund

SETTLEMENT of the John P. Norton will contest, approved in circuit court here Monday, removes a formidable legal obstacle to the establishment of the Anna C. Norton scholarship fund by the Escanaba board of education, as provided in the terms of Mr. Norton's will.

Although the validity of Mr. Norton's will was upheld by a circuit court jury May 18, 1951, legal action by the contestants on appeals could have delayed final disposition of the case for months, perhaps even years. The unfavorable aspects of this situation are readily apparent and are clearly presented in the settlement agreement. Prolonged litigation would have been harmful to many persons.

As indicated in the settlement agreement, it may now be possible to establish the scholarship fund for the benefit of deserving members of the 1952 Escanaba high school graduation class. This development, of course, is uncertain and is dependent upon a number of factors still to be determined, including perhaps legal clarification. Nevertheless, the school board has indicated that it desires to establish the scholarship fund, as provided in Mr. Norton's will, at the earliest possible date. The settlement of the will contest does advance the time when the fund may be established by many months.

The keen interest of John P. Norton in education was well known. His wife, in whose memory the scholarship fund is to be created, was a school teacher for many years. During her teaching years, Mrs. Norton spent most of her income for the welfare of her pupils and their families. During his own lifetime, Mr. Norton con-

Bishop Heads National Travel Organization

WHILE the act may be a tribute to the many years of toil he has put into promotion of the tourist, resort and travel industry, selection of George E. Bishop as president of the National Association of Travel Organizations, at its recent convention on Mackinac Island, is an honor for Mr. Bishop but even more so for the Upper Peninsula and its Development Bureau.

Coming as it did just 30 years after the hiring of Mr. Bishop as secretary-manager of the Development Bureau, the selection recognizes the vision the Marquette man has achieved in this field on local, area, regional and even national levels. Besides his untiring efforts in behalf of the Development Bureau, he is a charter member and former chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council, a charter member and past president of the Northern Great Lakes Area Council and has served as treasurer of the NATO for nine years.

The judge is right, to a certain extent. It CAN be kept out of the newspaper, but it ISN'T.

When the happening becomes a matter of public record a newspaper will print it. Why?

For a variety of reasons. But to us the uppermost reason is that certain among the offenders are "regulars." We feel that the public is entitled to know who they are so that the public may take adequate measures to protect itself.

Naturally, there are many one-time offenders who really had no intention of getting into trouble or doing anything wrong. Unfortunately, we cannot discriminate between those who will only have one offense against their record and those who will be regulars. We must print them all, or, at least, all that we know about.

Occasionally one will slip by, we well know. For those that slip by, though there are quite a few that come up in courts outside our territory which we would never know about if the defendant wasn't so foolish as to call us to try and keep it from reaching print.

We don't like to print these cases, but we have one policy and stick to it. We can't change the policy even once, or there is no policy.

So, once more we are going to quote the words of the Owosso mayor—they apply to our policy. "I wouldn't protect my own mother if she violated the law."

Dream Of Youth

By Gordon Martin

When it's early in the evening and you settle in your chair, and you think you'll do some reading and forget your every care, of a sudden you are thinking of the days of long ago, and of busy youthful times when you were always on the go. You remember how you did your job and then found time to play, often staying out till early morning to greet another day.

You could always find the energy to do the things you pleased, and each golden opportunity you always gladly seized. And somehow you never watched the clock nor felt the need of sleep, as you worked and played as if you zest for living wouldn't keep. There was always something going on that took your waking time, and you thought if you should miss it, it would surely be a crime.

And today, you proudly tell yourself, you still have pep to burn, though a lot of guys as old as you are showing much concern, over lack of strength to lead a life as hectic as they wish, while you stay up late and find that midnight hours are your dish. And you're thinking what a man you are, although your youth has fled, when you're wakened by your wife who says you'd better go to bed.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Some of the most vital congressional debates never get into the headlines. All last week, a debate affecting the pocketbook of every adult in the nation took place between conferees from the Senate and House over taxes. News-men and the public were not admitted.

The chief debaters were two distinguished and highly respected gentlemen from the south—Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia and Rep. Bob Doughton of North Carolina. In many respects they are similar, but on taxes they vigorously disagree. Both are elderly—George 73 and Doughton 66. Both have served in Congress for a large part of the 20th century—George for 29 years, Doughton 40 years. Both came from rural backgrounds, though George of late has numbered some of the nation's captains of high finance among his friends.

Both are elderly—George 73 and Doughton 66. Both have served in Congress for a large part of the 20th century—George for 29 years, Doughton 40 years. Both came from rural backgrounds, though George of late has numbered some of the nation's captains of high finance among his friends.

In the recent closed-door tax debates, Senator George probably has thought that Doughton was mulish in more ways than one, for Muley Bob has been his most stubborn opponent in trying to plug the loopholes in the Senate's so-called "millionaires" tax bill.

"CUTS! CUTS! CUTS!"

"All of the Senate amendments are for tax relief in one form or another," grumbled the big North Carolinian at one stormy committee session, "Cuts!—Cuts!—Cuts!"

"The president asked us for sixteen billions in new taxes to balance the budget," Doughton continued, aiming his remarks directly at Senator George, "but the House cut this down to ten billion and finally to $7.2 billion. You can't reduce it any more without ruining our economy. How in the world the Senate arrived at the conclusion that we can get by with only $5.4 billion of new taxes is beyond me."

"The Senate figure of $5.4 billion is the maximum our economy can stand," argued Senator George. "If you tax business any more you will curtail production and destroy the incentive of free enterprise."

"Cuts!—Cuts!—Cuts!" roared Doughton. "That's the only language you fellows know."

Rep. John Dingell of Detroit supported Doughton.

"For every dollar the Senate bill saves in new taxes, we will lose ten dollars in the resulting depreciation of our currency," Dingell argued.

DEPRECIATED DOLLAR HURTS

"Taxes don't hurt the people when their dollars have a high purchasing power," continued the Detroiter. "It's when their dollars depreciate that they feel the tax pinch worst. Yet this Senate bill would create more inflation by deficit spending and adding to the national debt. For we'll simply have to borrow money to meet expenses instead of raising it by taxes."

"I hear a lot of these big corporation directors say that they hate Communism but they apparently don't hate it enough to cough up some extra taxes to keep our government solvent."

Neither Doughton nor Dingell, however, could move George. He told the House conferees in effect that they could argue until they were blue in the face without changing his position.

"I want to say furthermore," the senator added with an icy stare at Doughton, "that this is the last tax bill I'll bring in unless we get into an all-out war."

Note—Actually it is the duty of the House of Representatives to initiate or "bring in" tax legislation. The Senate passes on the tax bill after the House adopts it. George, as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, can exercise powerful influence over any tax bill, but it's doubtful if he could block one altogether.

They Seem to Go Together

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FRENDS AND FOES—Without making it sound alarming, Supt. John A. Lemmer of the Escanaba city schools recently told Escanaba audiences that certain persons and forces in the nation seek to destroy the public school system.

He did not give it the flavor of alarm because he is not an alarmist—and because the persons and the forces are being adequately exposed.

But he did warn that certain "front organizations" still exist and may step into any community with their campaign of malicious propaganda. It has been done in other American cities with disastrous results to the public schools.

Cloaking misinformation with patriotism, the foes of the public schools play upon prejudice, religious intolerance, and ignorance.

The attacks are most likely to strike a community at a most critical time—when building programs are proposed and good-will and increased school taxes are needed.

HOW THEY WORK—A community selected for attack is supplied with pamphlets from organizations with high-sounding titles. Supt. Lemmer named ten such "front organizations" as follows:

American Education Association, American Parents Committee on Education, Church League of America, Conference of American Small Business Organizations, Employers Association of Chicago, Institute for Public Service, Friends of the Public Schools of America, Guardians of American Education, National Association of Pro-American, and National Council for American Education.

All of the organizations profess patriotism, all are dedicated to attacks upon the public schools, and all in one or more ways claim that public schools are subservient.

BEHIND THE PAMPHLET—Within the past year there turned up in Escanaba a pamphlet titled "Private Schools: The Solution to America's Educational Problem."

Supt. Lemmer told his audience that behind the pamphlet was a typical story of a "front organization" at work.

The pamphlet was issued by the National Council for American Education, New York. Allen A. Zoll is its executive vice president.

Zoll has been fully exposed by Arthur D. Morse in an article "Who's Trying To Ruin Our Schools?" in the September McCall's magazine.

Excerpts from the McCall's article were presented by the Escanaba school superintendent to better acquaint him with Zoll and the National Council for American Education.

SHY MR. ZOLL—Morse found Zoll reluctant to talk. Checking Zoll's background he found out why.

Zoll just before World War II was national commander of a Fascist organization called The American Patriots, several of whose followers were cited for sedition, including the notorious Elizabeth Dilling and Gerald L. K. Smith.

In 1939 Zoll was arrested on an indictment that he had attempted to extort $7,500 from New York radio station, picketed by Christian Front followers.

Nine years later (1948) Zoll set himself up in a new brand of business—the National Council for American Education, Allen A. Zoll, Ph. D.

IN THE MONEY—Morse reports that Zoll told him he received his Ph. D. at Temple Hall, a now defunct diploma mill operated by a man who had served a six-year prison term on six charges.

Zoll's organization is "the most important rallying point and serves as general headquarters for the enemies of education," says Morse.

BY THE END OF 1949, PAMPHLET SALES AND CONTRIBUTIONS HAD NETTED ZOLL AN ESTIMATE OF $45,000. Morse reported.

Persons are invited into membership fees ranging from $5 to $1,000.

Many people of unquestioned reputation have been duped by Zoll and his National Council for American Education. Among them Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion; and late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, and others. They repudiated the Council when its true purpose became known.

And as Supt. Lemmer told his audience, investigate carefully before you devote money, time or interest in organizations whose purpose is not to build but to destroy.

Letters From The People

Opposes T-H Act

Dear Editor:

Answering the charge in your recent editorial that organized labor, through the action of their leaders, is taking a narrow view in seeking to eliminate the senators now in office and who voted for the Taft-Hartley law.

Certainly an organization of the heads of capitalistic enterprises could not rightly be accused of "narrowness" in opposing legislators seeking to destroy their business.

In the same manner, organized labor should have the same rights recognized.

"Let's Be Fair".

So They Say

I always sit on my old hats, throw them around and punch them to see if I can give them a different look.—Mrs. John Davis Lodge, wife of Connecticut governor.

The item is not to be despised, though certainly not to be naunted. It is wise to have one's "usual" and to pay for it oneself. Men may seem willing to treat one, but they do not like a man who never treats back. They will never believe that we (clergymen) cannot afford it.—Dr. Neville Gorton, Bishop of Coventry, Eng.

Answer: Right! And my humblest apologies to that valiant and indispensable branch of the American army, Colby, like Homer, sometimes nods.

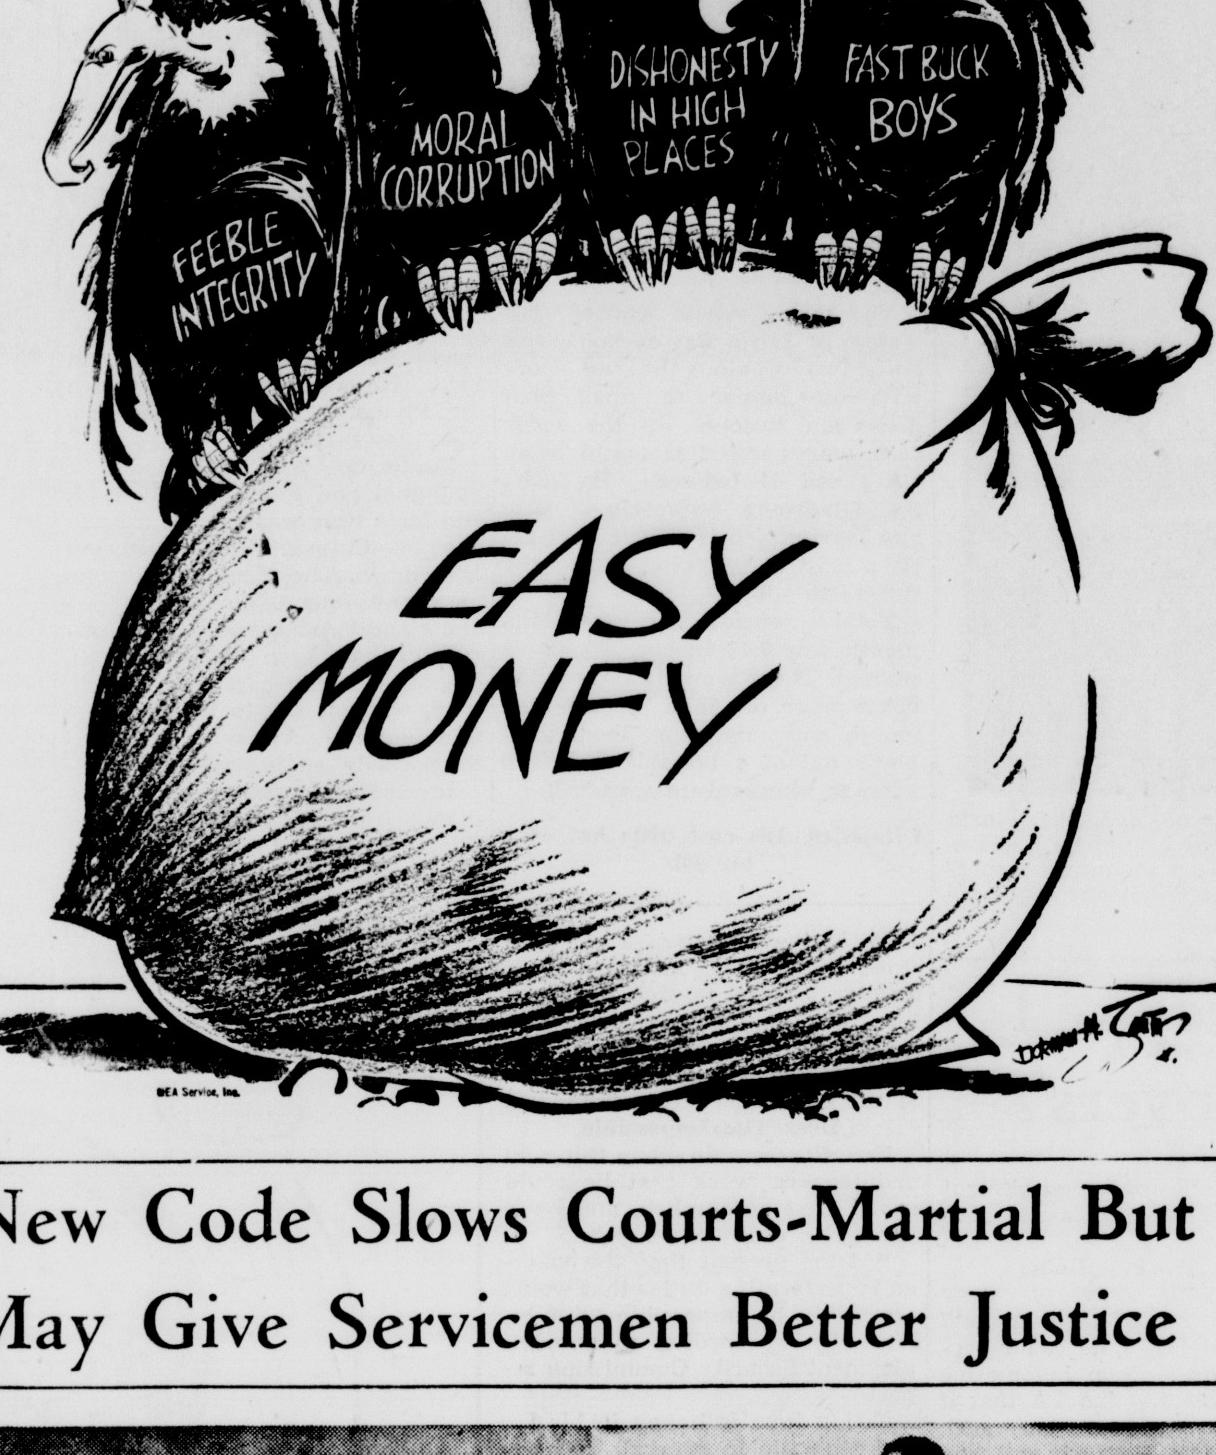

One thing that radio has taught most of us, by constant repetition, is that the "y" of yeast should be clearly sounded; that, with apologies to Kipling,

East is east
And yeast is yeast,
And never the twain shall meet.

But "east" for yeast is still frequently heard. Why the "y" was ever dropped in the first place remains a mystery, and the authorities do not explain.

At any rate, be sure to say: YEEST.

Old Gabe Didn't Earn Much At Plainwell, But Leaves Big Hoard

PLAINWELL, Mich.—(AP)—"Old Gabe" Ryerson was a pretty familiar—and yet a sort of shadowy—figure around Plainwell.

For the last 10 years or so, he had done odd jobs around the town—mowing lawns, tending gardens and such.

He didn't make much money, for sure, but then "Old Gabe" seemed to be a pretty thrifty sort of a codger.

Merchants would tell how Gabe would come in and dicker with them for overripe bananas or other foodstuffs.

He seemed to like milk and doughnuts best, though, and folks thought that was what he lived on most of the time.

But no one knew how thrifty the 79-year-old, Gabe was until after his death, Sept. 21, in his rooming house. And then it took a probate court investigation to find out for sure.

First of all, his landlady reported that a metal tackle box was missing from Gabe's room. Someone remembered seeing the old man carrying it into the basement of the public library where Gabe used to go to read the papers.

The box was found in the library basement. It contained $750 in cash and oil stocks valued at $8,000.

Another check of his room revealed some 2,500 other shares of stock. Their value has not yet been determined.

An administrator for the estate was appointed by Allegan County Probate Judge Harold Weston.

The only surviving relative is believed to be a cousin, Mrs. Ida Nelson of Chicago.

The court is seeking her. She probably would have first claim on the estate.

But the good housewives of Plainwell, who used to give old Gabe a hot meal or an outworn suit, are wondering how he managed to save all that money.

Suddenly, in death, Old Gabe

Finnish Envoy Visits In U. P.

Johan Nykopp Comes From Washington

MARQUETTE—"Relations between the United States of America and Finland have always been most cordial, and we sincerely hope this relationship continues."

So stated Johan Nykopp, Washington, D. C., ambassador to the U. S. from Finland, during his visit to Marquette over the weekend. Mr. Nykopp was accompanied here by B. O. Alholm, attaché of the legation of Finland.

It was the first time the Finnish ambassador visited the Upper Peninsula since 1941, when then minister Hjalmer Procopio came to Marquette.

Visiting In U. P. One Week
The big, cordial and soft-spoken seemed to have become much more real than he was in life.

ing Finnish ambassador was very pleased over the fact that his country and America are on good terms. He admitted that his country's conscientiousness about paying back the World War I loan has helped to create this friendship, along with other reasons.

He cited the many American residents of Finnish descent living in the northern section of the U. S., the love of both countries for sports, and the democratic governments of the two nations as other reasons for the cordial relations.

Mr. Nykopp will be in the Upper Peninsula, visiting in Marquette County, the Copper Country and other sections where there are Finnish descendants. Saturday night he spoke to students at Suomi College in Hancock in both Finnish and English.

Mr. Nykopp speaks six languages fluently. In addition to his native tongue and English, he knows Swedish, Russian, French and German.

He entered the diplomatic service in 1930, and from 1931 to 1936 he was Finnish ambassador to Russia. He was in charge of the economic department of the ministry for foreign affairs in Finland after that tour of duty.

As head of the economic department, he helped negotiate trade agreements with other countries, and in that capacity came to the U. S. in 1948 and 1949.

Mr. Nykopp was appointed Finnish ambassador to the U. S. June 1 of this year. He succeeded Kalle Gutila, who is now a member of the board of directors of the Bank of Finland, in Helsinki.

the front to relieve North Koreans.

"This is very good medicine to welcome them to the front," said Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. N. ground commander. "I hope it will be the end of the Heartbreak Ridge fighting."

Two Hills Taken

The tanks rumbled up a river bed trail prepared in advance by American engineers. A full regiment of infantrymen—about 3,750 men and officers—flanked the tanks.

A smaller Second division tank-infantry force shot up Heartbreak Ridge bunkers from Satae Valley east of the ridge.

They hammered Chinese in the valley and to the west and shot up North Korean bunkers on the east.

U. S. Second division infantrymen on the ridges ran into fierce resistance to the east, but captured two hills west of the valley. A counterattack by 1,000 Chinese forced the 38th regiment to withdraw from one mountain on Kim Il Sung Ridge near Heartbreak.

Attacking units of the 23rd regiment were stopped cold on a small ridgeline west of the northern tip of Heartbreak.

B-29 bombers blasted two airfields at Pyongyang, the Korean Red capital, with 130,000 pounds of high explosives in the continuing campaign to keep Communists from basing their growing air force in Korea.

Californian Arrested For Stares At Woman

LONG BEACH, Calif.—(P)—Who says you can't arrest a man for looking?

Robert L. Browning, 39, was picked up on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday after Mrs. Jaqueta Sather, 24, complained that he stared at her for as long as 20 minutes at a time.

First, she said, he came into the liquor store where she works and just sat and looked. She asked him to stop. Then he started driv-

Baby, 3, Kidnaped By Finance Company With Impounded Car

LOS ANGELES—Natalie Ann Wiseblood, 3, woke up in a strange place last night, and started crying.

Her cries ended a city-wide "kidnap" hunt, started a half hour earlier when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiseblood, reported the child and their auto gone.

The Wisebloods parked their car beside the garage after coming home from the grocery store. They left Natalie sleeping in the car while they carried in the food packages.

While they were gone, a finance company agent had the car moved to a garage seven blocks away. He told police he did not notice the child in the car.

Natalie's presence in the automobile was not discovered until she awoke and started crying. Garage attendants called police, and the "kidnap" scare was ended.

Police took Natalie home. The car remained impounded.

Gang Warfare Would Curb Crime Problem

NEW YORK—It is possible to find a curious public-health aspect in the recent murder of Willie Moretti by his criminal colleagues, and in the general air of distrust of one hoodlum for the other.

The murders of Bugsy Siegel, the Binaggio boys, and sundry other minor chieftains would indicate that the house that Frankie built is in need of drastic repair. That is good for the nation as a whole, if only because it indicates that the recent crackdowns on crime are beginning to divide the ranks of the hoodlums. They had been semi-respectable much too long.

Back in the dear, departed prohibition days, the gangsters used to shoot each other up with great eagerness. Before Frank Costello finally put together a truce and the tacit agreement to cooperate. The occasional upstart who did dissent was quietly ice-picked by a member of Murder, Inc., an enforcing outfit with stock fees for guns to hire. It was very neat.

Talked Too Much

The neatness seems to be disappearing. Best hazard on the slaying of Moretti was that his associates were afraid he would sing loud and clear in upcoming investigations of graft and general corruption. It was hinted that poor, departed Will had once acquired a case of what the boys call Big Casino, which ended in the same paresis that finished Al Capone. Paresis has a tendency to unhinge both tongue and mind, which was amply illustrated last year when Willie popped his yap before the Kefauver committee. Rather than risk another session of Willie's garrulousness, they sent four hard guys with gats to forever quell his loquaciousness.

There was the rifle execution of Bugsy, and the repeated attempts on the life of Mickey Cohen, the big kill in KC, added to the jail sentences, revelations and assorted confessions, plus the intimidation that suddenly caused gambler Harry Gross to forget to remember. The untouchable Frank Erickson drew a bit in the cooler, as did the dapper Joey Adonis. On the whole, it would seem the good folk are finding precious little right with wrong, and are discovering that they can do something about it.

Sunday School Class Party

Mrs. Jonas Sjogren entertained her class of small children at an afternoon party at the Floyd Anderson home Saturday. Games were played and prizes were given to Sandra Anderson, Linda Olson, Teddy Morrison and Art Nelson. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Sjogren and Mrs. Anderson after the games. Those attending were Teddy and Ruth Ann Moriso, Linda Olson, Ester and Art Nelson, Pat Sundling, Richard Segerstrom and Sandra Hall, sr.

Now they say they fear a wholesale series of gang slayings, like in the olden days, and I figure that's fine. When distrust within the ranks mounts so high that the boys are gunning each other, the resultant confusion is apt to breed some startling revelations as to just who was mixed up with whom and for how much. Even if nothing of lasting importance develops, at least the breakup of a well-founded, smoothly operational organization of crime will have been temporarily disrupted.

And a few of the old rats, grown fat and suave and sleek, will suddenly assume their old position in the public eye as what they are—just rats that got their hotels and racing franchises and hauling contracts and beer factories and botting works and whiskey monopolies and political protection with a gun and brass knuckles and lit cigars to burn the feet of former friends.

I say that "fear" of a general gang war is the wrong word. I think a gang war would be just dandy, and the more who get it behind the ear the merrier. Weep not for Willie nor for any who collect the big one. They've had it coming, all of them, ever since they broke into big business with the butt of a gun.

Death Toll By Fire Runs High 1,000 Killed In U. S. Last Year

Fires cause almost as many fatalities among Americans annually as were suffered by U. S. military forces in the first year of the Korean war. Fire Captains Schrader and Bergeson pointed out today in urging participation in Fire Prevention Week.

The captains said that 11,000 persons were killed last year in fires on the home front, while approximately 13,000 Americans lost their lives during 12 months of fighting in Korea.

"Casualties in battle are inevitable," the captains commented. "But the real tragedy of our home front casualties from fire is that most of those deaths could have been prevented."

Carelessness Is Cause
Amplifying their remarks the captains asserted carelessness and neglect were the underlying causes of most fires. They said records of the National Fire Protection Association—sponsor of Fire Prevention Week—show that 90 per cent of all fires could be prevented by eliminating the common hazards which cause them.

The captains said one of the main objectives of Fire Prevention Week is to arouse the public from its apathy about fire and to demonstrate that good housekeeping and careful living habits are one of the most effective means of fire prevention.

To emphasize the point that carelessness is primarily at fault for most fires, Captains Schrader and Bergeson cited statistics from the records of the NEPA which show that careless smoking caused 95,000 fires in 1950 with the destruction of property worth $55,500,000. They scored "obvious parental laxity" in the 22,600 fires attributed to children playing with matches, resulting in losses of $8,000,000.

The fire captains said that losses totaling $82,500,000 were reported in 75,000 fires resulting from the misuse of electricity and defective equipment. Their advice on this score was to be sure that electrical wiring is adequate and circuits are not overloaded.

Defective heating apparatus was responsible for 54,500 fires which destroyed $60,000,000 worth of property. Such fires can be prevented they said, by cleaning heating equipment yearly and making repairs promptly when needed. They added that the furnace should be enclosed in a separate room with fire-resistant walls, and that exposed joists above the heating plant should be protected with fire-resistant material.

Youngest Watch Designer Possesses A Midas Touch

Martha Widmer, young Swiss watch stylist, thumbs through an old book picturing ancient time-pieces in hopes of gleaning ideas and inspiration.

By NEA Service

LUCERNE, Switzerland — You might almost call Martha Widmer's pencil a magic wand. What she sees, she draws. And what she draws is transformed into gem-encrusted gold.

Martha is a watch designer—the youngest in the world, it's claimed. Still in her early twenties, she has already had four years experience in this field in the employ of one of Switzerland's leading timepiece firms.

Martha finds inspiration everywhere for the exquisite drawings that are later converted into precious metals. One day it may be a contemporary Dutch fence that takes her fancy; the next an intricate design on an ancient Greek urn.

Although she's Swiss both by birth and residence she frequently roams the museums and art galleries of Paris, Rome and Vienna in search of ideas. She goes to Paris to find enthusiastic endorsement as the art center of the world.

Not all of her time in her travels is spent amidst dusty relics of another era. The shops and avenues claim her professional attention, too.

It's as a designer of up-to-date, fashionably correct watches that Martha has gained her reputation. She considers a timepiece as much a costume accessory as a hat or purse, and styles them to suit specific occasions and attire. Femininity and elegance are her trademarks.

One design may flow from her pen in an hour; another may require an entire day. Others, no matter how long she labors, don't come out quite the way she intended. These ideas, she says, are like good fruit or wine. They must be put upon the shelf to ripen for a time.

Once the basic idea is completely clear in her mind, the drawing is a relatively simple matter, she states. Art training as well as natural ability contribute to this ease of execution. Her talent is shared by her father, mother and brother, all of whom paint as a hobby.

It was her father who persuaded Martha to abandon her original yearnings to become a concert pianist. It was through his encouragement that she dared participate in admission examinations for the Zurich Art School, and through his assistance that she later obtained her position as an apprentice watch stylist.

Her father, she explains candidly, saw in a newspaper an advertisement inserted by a Lucerne firm. "He wrote an answer to the ad. I signed—and got the job."

Despite the maturity of her attainments, Martha has remained fresh and unsophisticated. In appearance, she resembles an American school girl, and her interests are similar.

American jazz ranks high with her, even though the names of her favorite performers are "difficult

Dorothy Deloria Of Nahma Bride, Wed In Arizona

NAHMA — A late September wedding of interest to residents of the community took place in Prescott, Ariz., uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Deloria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Deloria of Nahma, and Thomas Zabriskie, son of Mrs. E. T. Zabriskie of New York City. The 4:30 service was read by the Rev. Bernard Nowicki in Sacred Heart church.

The main altar was decorated with white crysanthemums and daisies and lighted by white tapers in tall candelabra. Baskets of white chrysanthemums were used in the chancel decorations. The traditional wedding marches were played by Miss LaVerne Hall and she accompanied Eddie Haasis who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria" before the ceremony.

Chiffon and Satin Gown

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon over satin. The bodice, cut with a low neck with chiffon yoke and long sleeves, was fitted to the waist with delicate blue satin folds. Blue and white sequins and forget-me-nots trimmed the front. The full skirt ended in a train over which a long veil caught to a sequin-trimmed headdress fell in cascades. The skirt, sleeves and veil also were elaborately trimmed.

Dick McGrew of Phoenix was best man and Dreston Baumgartner ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Deloria chose a golden brown ensemble and a corsage of lavender orchids.

Strikes In Defense Industries Alarm Arms Production Chiefs Over Slowdown

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Increasingly serious strikes in key defense industries are slowing up rearmament efforts, worrying arms production officials. Number of new strikes in August—425—was same as number of new strikes in July, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But the total of man-days idle increased by a million in August to 2,750,000. All strikes in effect in August, new and old, numbered 625 and involved 350,000 workers. September figures will be considerably higher.

Principal defense strikes in effect in September were:

Machine tools — Brown and Sharpe, Providence, 5000 employees. International Association of Machinists, AFL.

Jet engines — Wright Aeronautical, two plants in New Jersey, 8900 employees. CIO auto workers.

Airplanes — Douglas Aircraft, Long Beach, Calif., 10,000 employees. CIO auto workers.

Tanks, tractors for European airport construction — Caterpillar Tractor, Peoria 22,000 employees. This strike has just been settled after two months' idleness, by 13½ cents-an-hour increase. CIO auto workers.

Copper — All major U. S. producers tied up, involving 58,000 miners. Strike settlement now before Wage Stabilization Board. Mine, mill and smelter workers, CIO.

Atomic energy — Construction workers at Paducah, Ky., and Dana, Ind., 2500 employees in AFL craft unions. AFL President William Green joined AEC officials in request for return to work.

All strikes have involved pay issue, government's wage stabilization program is seriously menaced. Showdown on a new wage formula at possibly higher level will probably come in CIO steelworkers' demands for pay increases. AFL annual convention in San Francisco also served notice of further pay demands.

On Your Side Mr. President

Just before retiring from his job as Secretary of Defense, General George C. Marshall had an occasion to introduce to President Truman the Defense Department's director of Public Information, Clayton Fritchey. He was formerly editor of the New Orleans Item.

To make talk, the President asked Fritchey how he liked Washington. Fritchey said he liked it fine. Always something new. Nice people to work with. Much more interesting than any job he ever had.

Well, what had he been doing before, the President asked.

"Oh," said Fritchey, "I was editor of a pro-Truman newspaper in New Orleans."

Can't Do Everything

Atomic energy is sure wonderful, but it can't do everything. For instance, there's an inconspicuous little sign on the wall of the Atomic Energy Committee's office in the Capitol.

Do not vacuum clean these carpets, and do not remove ant powder from around edges of room."

Harriman Is Busy Man

First "coordinator" of the present defense effort is going to be W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's foreign policy adviser and trouble-shooting ambassador-at-large. Mr. Harriman will coordinate the Department of State, Department of Defense and extended Marshall Plan economic aid to foreign countries under the new MSA — the Mutual Security Agency established by Congress.

He will also be American representative on the so-called "wise men" or "12 apostles" who will pull together all defense plans for the 12 North Atlantic Treaty countries. They must prepare a report by Dec. 1. If possible, it will be submitted to the NATO Council meeting in Rome in late November.

These two jobs will keep Mr. Harriman in Europe until after the Rome meeting. His work as mediator of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute will be handled by others, principally Asst. Secretary of State George C. McGhee and the new U. S. Ambassador to Iran, Loy Henderson.

Diplomatic Soldier

French General "DDT" de Latte de Tassigny was sped on his way after his Washington visit with an honor guard, a band and full ceremonial at the National Airport.

High brass and striped pants were there to see him off. After the final salutes had been exchanged, General de Latte was escorted to his plane, the door was closed and the loading steps were pulled away.

Then something went wrong inside. The ramp was pushed into place again and the door opened. Out came the general. He wanted to say goodbye again to the Army sergeant who had been his chauffeur during his visit in Washington.

Little things like that all week made a big hit with the military here, and helped get him what he came after — more equipment for his Indo-China war, and faster.

"Speed, speed, speed," he kept insisting.

Wanted—One Surgeon

Congressional economizing on government public information officers has created some difficult situations. Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia led this fight, and amendments he sponsored on the Independent Offices Appropriation Bill cut information staffs by 30 per cent.

There has arisen, however, the case of the Budget Bureau. Its office of information consists of one person: good-looking, smart and efficient Mrs. Virginia de Pury. How to chop Mrs. de Pury in two pieces, allowing 70 per cent of her to work on information while the other 30 per cent works on something else presented quite a problem.

Budget Director Frederick J. Lawton at first suggested that she could work 70 per cent of her time.

week—three-and-a-half days—in information work, and he would give her something else to do on the other day and a half. But what if an information query came in during the day and a half she was supposed to be on another job?

Director Lawton finally mentioned this case to Senator Byrd. The Virginia gentleman gallantly agreed that he hadn't intended to cut any beautiful ladies in two. So he has now written a letter to Appropriations Committee Chairman Kenneth McKellar, suggesting an amendment which would exempt from the economy amendment any government information staff which consisted of only one person. But whether they can get this passed in the present session of Congress is doubtful.

Michigan State College Reveals New Diet System

EAST LANSING—(P)—A new way to peel off those extra pounds—at the rate of a pound and a half to two pounds a week—has been announced by a group of Michigan State college food and nutrition experts.

Results of the long-time research program in weight reduction under the direction of Dr. Margaret Ohlson, were reported in a paper prepared for delivery before the American dietetics association, now meeting in Cleveland.

Dr. Ohlson said the weight loss is achieved with no abnormal hunger pains or disturbance to the dieter's system.

The new diet contains a high proportion of protein and fat. The food combinations in the diet permit weight loss without loss of vigor or work capacity.

Ask Your Doctor!

"This diet, like any reducing diet, should only be undertaken under the direction of a physician," Dr. Ohlson said. "We recommend that no one attempt to lose weight without consulting a physician."

Members of the medical profession may secure details of the diet by writing to the foods and nutrition department at the college. The college does not plan distribution of diet details or sample menus to the general public.

The diet is planned so it may be prepared from foods included in everyday family meals. A typical breakfast is made up of citrus juice, two eggs, toast and butter and milk.

Lunch and dinner each include adequate servings of a protein food, which may be meat, fish, cheese or poultry or a combination of these foods. Dairy foods are an important part of the diet and are included in every meal. A wide choice of vegetables is included.

No Hunger Pangs

Michigan State college coeds taking part in the weight control program ate at a special table for several months. Before starting the diet, the coeds ate about 2,200 calories a day, counting meals and between meal snacks. Their reducing diet permitted about 1,600 calories a day and the coeds reported no hunger while on the diet.

Included in the program was a study of the maintenance diet needed after normal weight had been reached. Older persons, it was found, were often able to eat as much as 2,100 calories after their correct weight had been reached.

Calorie counting was not a great necessity. By increasing food intake gradually, dieters were able to find how much they could eat and not gain excessively.

Weight losses under the research program were gradual and regular. One housewife, referred to Dr. Ohlson by her physician, lost 70 pounds in about 10 months.

Many diet participants reported they felt better while losing weight. Their vitality was maintained or increased and their capacity for work did not diminish. Appetite control was achieved through the diet because the dieters learned to eat foods which provided high nourishment for their calories.

The diet imposes few restrictions on the foods which may be eaten. Salt intake is reduced but not cut out. Coffee or tea, unsweetened, can be included in amounts recommended by the physician along with part of the diet's milk allotment.

Meats may be prepared in any way desired, including frying, drippings, including fat, may be used to sweeten vegetables.

The weight control study was partly financed by a grant from the National Dairy Council. Assisting Dr. Ohlson in the study were Dr. Dena Cedquist and Dr. William Brewer. Physicians in the Lansing area referred overweight patients to the college for participation in the study.

Entry was gained by breaking the door lock by gunfire. The vandals, apparently youngsters, then proceeded to litter the camp with cooking utensils, blankets, groceries and other articles which they found inside.

City Manager Henrikson was requested to investigate the matter.

Starch, sugar and cream, used in the making of ice cream, are heat-producing fuel-foods.

'110 Lambs Proved to Us Minerals are Important'

say Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steinweg
Davenport, N. D.

OUR 75 EWES produced 110 healthy lambs this year—the most we ever got from that number of ewes—and we give Peavey's mineral feed recommendations most of the credit," say the Clarence Steinwegs of Davenport, N.D. Shown with them is Verne Kolkind (left) their Peavey Elevator manager.

Phosphorus is one of the minerals that most cattle and sheep in the northwest need badly for improved health and reproduction.

That's why Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Steinweg of Davenport, N. D., figure Verne Kolkind—their Peavey Elevator manager—did them a good turn to recommend a low cost, square deal mineral that contains generous amounts of phosphorus.

"We raise cattle as well as sheep," says Steinweg, "and they all like the mineral Verne recommended. They thrive on it, too. We not only got more lambs than ever, but they were strong and healthy. And the ewes were in tiptop shape after lambing."

"We're glad this community has a Peavey man like Verne Kolkind. He's always on the job—and always available for advice on livestock feeding."

There's a Peavey man in your neighborhood too. Call on him often. He wants to help you in every way he can.

Women's Club To Hear Mrs. Osborn

'Atlantic Union' Will Be Discussed

Members of the program committee of the Manistique Women's Club are stressing with particular emphasis their next regular meeting on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 16.

At that time Mrs. Steilanova Osborn, widow of the late Chase Osborn, former governor of Michigan, will speak on the subject to which she is devoting most of her time and effort.

Down in south Georgia, where her campaign for the federal union of democracies began, she has been called the Joan of Arc of the Atlantic Union. Admitting that she is slightly old for the part, Mrs. Osborn rejoins earnestly that Joan of Arc had nothing at all to be excited about in comparison with what the free world faces today. To unite the Atlantic pact democracies as 'partners in the free world,' will be a bigger thing, says Mrs. Osborn, than Magna Carta.

Though she describes this proposed union of Atlantic Pact nations as the greatest advance in social development in one thousand years, she is convinced that it is within the range of possibility. She believes that people who can create the hydrogen bomb with its incredible power to destroy, will be able, just as well to bring about the means of lasting peace.

Mrs. Osborn has the happy faculty of combining humor with deep earnestness and her talks are never dull. "Stellanova Osborn is absolutely right about Atlantic Union," a distinguished American editor has said since the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty organization last month in Ottawa.

Mrs. Osborn will also address the Manistique Rotary club at its regular meeting next Monday noon.

Mrs. Gust Hahn, Arbutus avenue, is a surgical patient at the Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey.

Douglas Allen is the name of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lockhart, of Gulliver.

Mrs. Thomas Duschene and daughters, Mary Ann and Barbara Lee, Mrs. Louis Smith and Mrs. Claude Duschene, all of Oconto, Wis., visited here over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jules Rivard, 304 Chippewa avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank St. John, of Detroit, have named their infant son, Joseph Edward.

Mrs. Alfred Scharstrom, 148 Weston Avenue, has returned from Detroit where she spent the past three weeks with relatives.

Lack Of Driver's License Leads To Term In Jail

Judge Victor Deemer issued stern justice in municipal court Tuesday afternoon when Mary Sangraw appeared before him and pleaded guilty to the charge of leaving the scene of an accident and operating a car without a driver's license. The combined offenses brought a ninety day jail term which the defendant began serving at once. The severity of the sentence came as a result of the defendant's second conviction of driving without an operator's license.

Bernard Napont, of Gould City, owner of the car driven by Miss Sangraw, was haled in court Monday and pleaded guilty to permitting the driver of his car to leave the scene of an accident. He was fined $25 and costs and is also in jail serving time in lieu of a fine. He also is without a driver's license, it having been revoked several months ago.

The accident occurred Sunday about a mile west of Thompson when the car collided with one driven by Dwaine Valquette, of Gladstone. Valquette was also ticketed for not having his car under control. The Valquette car suffered considerable damage and the driver suffered minor injuries.

Quarterback Club To Sponsor Glamor And Pep For Soo Game

Determination to back Manistique sports activities regardless of whether the team wins or loses has brought about the launching of an organization which will be known as the Manistique Quarterback club. The club was formed a short time ago, but became an active force following a meeting at the high school Tuesday evening.

At Tuesday's session election of officers was held and objectives of the club discussed. Named to serve were Roy Wilson, president; Don MacLean, secretary and Dick Berger, treasurer.

Included in the immediate plans are activities incidental to Friday night's game with the Soo. Friday evening there will be a stu-

Pauline Rokasky Becomes Bride Of Walter Kozen

Gladioli and mums decorated the altar of St. John's church in Garden Saturday morning for the wedding of Miss Pauline Rokasky, daughter of Mrs. Anna Rokasky, of Garden, and Walter Kozen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kozen of Donora, Pa. Rev. Ronald Bassett performed the 9 a. m. ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white slipper satin gown with a fingertip marquise veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Edmund Robare, of Garden, served as matron of honor. She wore an aqua marquise gown and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Edmund Robare was best man.

Mrs. Rokasky, mother of the bride, was attired in a black suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Kozen, the groom's mother, wore a green street length dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of mixed flowers.

The wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother for the immediate families and wedding party.

The regular service, scheduled for Sunday morning, has been cancelled.

An interesting sidelight concerning Rev. Chadwick is the fact that he was, prior to his entry into the ministry, a commercial artist and during his younger years, in England, was an actor of Shakespearean roles.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Choral Club Will Present Varied Christmas Program

The Manistique Choral Club will usher in the Yuletide season early in December with a varied program. This was decided upon at the regular meeting and practice session Monday evening.

There will be a generous allotment of Handel's "Messiah" numbers, old familiar Christmas carols and several innovations—Old World carols and litanies from the Slavic countries.

Efforts to bring out a good attendance at the practice met with good response, but there is still need for singers in all sections—particularly tenors and basses. Steady attendance by as many members of the chorus as possible is being urged.

The club meets for one hour of practice each evening at 7:30 o'clock. E. J. Thompson is the business manager. Mrs. William Hood, secretary; Mrs. James Fyvie, director and Mrs. John Orr, pianist.

Social

Legion Auxiliary
The American Legion auxiliary met Monday evening at the Legion club rooms. Mrs. E. J. Doyle, Mrs. Alex Cooper, Mrs. William Cowman and Mrs. George Huber were hostesses.

During the business meeting plans were made for the membership dinner to be held October 6. Mrs. E. J. Boyle and Mrs. Leon Wood are in charge. Also Mrs. George Huber and Mrs. Archie Carpenter were elected to represent the Legion auxiliary in the March of Dimes campaign.

After the meeting games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Jake Weber in 500; Mrs. Lloyd Crothers in bunco and Mrs. Otto Linden in canasta.

Refreshments were served later dent parade followed by a pep fest at the high school auditorium which will culminate with the crowning of the high school queen.

The game proper will be highlighted by more pomp and circumstance than is usually the case at local football games because of the presence of the Soo band of one hundred pieces as well as the Manistique band. The bands will execute various formations and perform various stunts that have made visits of the Soo team so spectacular in the past.

Year Round Organization

The Quarterback club was organized primarily to lend encouragement to the Manistique Emeralds who have been a bit tardy in hitting their stride this year. It is the purpose of members of the club, however, to function throughout the year and lend encouragement to basketball, track and baseball teams as well as football. Meetings will be held at the school each Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The needed spark to set off last night's meeting was provided by Morley Frazier, Upper Michigan coach of the year, who addressed the gathering. Coach Frazier touched on inter relations between parents, school and players. The effectiveness of a coach he said, is in a large measure dependent upon the attitude of the general public—particularly the attitude of the parents of the players. If the parents back the coach the youngsters will follow his instructions more effectively.

Ishpeming Rector To Speak Sunday At St. Alban's Church

The Rev. A. R. Chadwick, LT, rector of Grace Episcopal church at Ishpeming, will conduct services at St. Alban's Episcopal church next Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. Part of the church choir of the Ishpeming church will accompany Rev. Chadwick to help enhance the services. Communion will be included in the service.

The regular service, scheduled for Sunday morning, has been cancelled.

An interesting sidelight concerning Rev. Chadwick is the fact that he was, prior to his entry into the ministry, a commercial artist and during his younger years, in England, was an actor of Shakespearean roles.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Escanaba Man Gives Lecture On Chinese Writing

The ways of the "heathen Chinee" and the Japanese as revealed by their manner of expressing themselves in their mode of writing, were dealt with in an interesting manner by H. B. Hathaway, retired meteorologist, of Escanaba, before the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon.

Mr. Hathaway, has made a hobby of studying the script and characters used by the orientals in writing and in his talk presented numerous interesting bits of information showing why the Chinese are a non-progressive people.

The Chinese language, he said, is a static one. There has been no variance in it for hundreds of years. The Japanese people, on the other hand, being a progressive people, are finding themselves handicapped by the use of this script and the better educated class of Japanese are learning to use the alphabet. He said that he had learned from reliable sources that English is fast becoming the unofficial language of the Japanese.

Mr. Hathaway, during the course of his talk, wrote numerous Chinese characters to explain certain points of his talk.

He was introduced by Keith Bundy.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murphy and family, 107 North Fifth street, spent the weekend in Garden at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tatrow.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

A final note on baseball in this city . . . If the recent season was not the most successful in history, it certainly comes awfully close . . . The three teams representing Escanaba in league activity won four championships . . . The Bears won the Tri County crown, the Cubs captured the Waubung league bunting and the American Legion district title, and the Escanaba Little League All-Stars won the state championship.

In winning the Waubung league championship, the Cubs ran their consecutive victory streak in league play to the amazing total of 40 . . . For the Bears it was a long haul from three seasons ago when the team was unable to finish out the schedule because of lack of players . . . The Bears took first place in the final league standings and won the playoff crown as well . . . The Little Leaguers, who are tomorrow's bigger stars, took their state crown in their first year of competition . . . We might also mention that the Escanaba high school baseball team, under Coach Jim Rouman, completed its season undefeated . . . And to cap it off, Russ Hilton of the Bears moved into organized ball with the Oshkosh Giants of the Wisconsin State league.

Did you know that there are 58 different standard and usual ways of describing a football play through the line from scrimmage . . . We didn't either . . . But we got a letter from the Paul Coburn Agency the other day offering us a total of 626 descriptive words and phrases for use on the sports page . . . Also included besides football line plays are 36 "colorful and hard hitting descriptions of a tackle," 66 "ways of describing a basketball score," 37 "different ways of framing your descriptions of passing and receiving," etc., etc.

Turn Down Cow As Mascot For Michigan State

EAST LANSING — (P) — A proposal that a cow be designated the official mascot of the Michigan State football team did not a-moo most of those queried on the MSC campus today.

The suggestion, made in all seriousness, came from the Michigan State Dairy Club.

"Some people still call us a cow-college even if we do have the nation's top football team," said one of the dairy students. "Why not show we're proud of it?"

Other undergraduates protested that the school has more students in the college of business administration alone than in all the agricultural schools.

"It would be impractical to take a cow to out-of-town games," objected the expense-minded business office.

A high college official termed the suggestion "nonsense."

"Besides, the placid cow hardly typifies the spirit of our fighting Spartans," he added.

Middlecoff Tops Golfers In Open At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY — (P) — Cary Middlecoff nabbed the Kansas City open title to wind up the PGA's summer golf tournament tour as the nation's No. 2 money winner.

The tall Tennessee dentist was four strokes under par in beating Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del., and Doug Ford, of Harrison, N. Y., by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff in the $15,000 Kansas City open yesterday.

Middlecoff shot a 68. Douglas and Ford each had 72s over the 6,500-yard Milburn Country club course.

The victory, Middlecoff's sixth major success of the year, was good for $2,400 and boosted his year's earnings to $24,075.91, second only to Lloyd Mangrum who has made $21,088.

Here's how the leading money winners stand at the end of the summer tour:

1-Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill.	$25,838.83
2-Cary Middlecoff	$24,075.91
3-Jim Ferrier, San Francisco	$22,890.67
4-Ben Hogan, Fort Worth	$20,400.00
5-Bob Burke, Jr., Houston	$18,033.33
6-Sault Ste. Marie Sulphur Springs, W. Va.	$13,072.50
7-Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.	$10,735.58
8-Skee Riegel, Tulsa	$10,709.67
9-Rayton Heamer, Charlotte, N. C.	$10,340.84
10-Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill.	$9,950.17

Stephenson dropped a 13-7 verdict Friday, but has not yet tasted defeat at the hands of a U. P. club, the loss coming from St. Norbert of DePere, Wis.

With three weekends of football remaining on the U. P. slate, the five schools with unblemished records are Menominee, Newberry, Stephenson, Stambaugh and Powers.

The Menominee Maroons, defending Peninsula champions, stretched their skein to five with a 13-6 verdict over Iron Mountain. Menominee needed two fourth-quarter touchdowns to turn the trick.

Stambaugh won in spite of a big Iron River statistical edge. The lone TD came on a 43-yard punt return by Don Halverson in the first period. Iron River made 11 first downs to two for their opponents.

Newberry had little trouble chalking up its 18th straight win, punching over three touchdowns in the first half to beat Gladstone 19-0.

Powers crushed St. Paul of Negaunee 39-6 for its fourth win this year.

Coming Games

On deck for the unbeaten this weekend are a couple of capable foes. Menominee travels to meet the Ironwood Red Devils who beat and Ellis Duckett got away for the best runs in the ground attack. Bolden looked especially good when churning through the line with his legs spinning like an outboard motor as he powered away from tacklers.

Duckett, who hasn't had as much chance to show his stuff under game conditions, used his speed for some long end runs.

Munn wasn't entirely satisfied however with the showing his "ponies" put on against a defense of freshmen and recruits from the junior varsity.

Yewcic, a catcher with the baseball team, looked classy in his pitching to the receivers. He showed a nice mixture of long floaters down the field and short, flat passes across the line of scrimmage.

Michigan Tunes Up For Big Ten Debut Saturday

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (P) — Michigan's tilt with Indiana here Saturday is definitely regarded by the Wolverine coaches as the key game on their 1951 football schedule.

A third straight loss would make it tough for the once proud powers of the Western conference to get going this year at all.

But as one coach put it:

"If we could manage to win this one, we may pick off a few more before the season is over."

Need Peak Effort

That's the sentiment in the Michigan camp right now and one that is sure to bring the Wolverines to a peak effort Saturday.

However, there is the tentative thought here that last week's improved, but losing effort, against Stanford, may have marked the top Wolverine performance.

"Can we get any better?" That's the question that hangs in the balance pending the Hoosier contest.

At best Michigan figures about a 50-50 chance against the Indiana club that dropped its opener 48-6 to the resurgent Irish of Notre Dame and then took Pitt in workmanlike fashion, 13-6.

There is a strong feeling here that Coach Clyde Smith made no effort to bring his squad up for the Notre Dame contest. For the Hoosiers were doing all right last year, tying Nebraska, beating Iowa and losing respectably to Ohio State when the Irish ended their run.

There is a strong feeling here that Coach Clyde Smith made no effort to bring his squad up for the Notre Dame contest. For the Hoosiers were doing all right last year, tying Nebraska, beating Iowa and losing respectably to Ohio State when the Irish ended their run.

Michigan coaches expect all out effort from the Hoosier combine Saturday.

It'll catch Michigan at a time when the Wolverines' rushing game is improving fast but their aerial defense department is at a low ebb.

Defensively, the Wolverines are improving with experience. But having given up 48 points in two games, they can hardly be regarded as at their peak.

Ezzard Fights Layne Tonight

PITTSBURGH — (P) — Ezzard Charles, confident he'll be the first fighter ever to regain the heavy weight boxing title, meets his first big test in stocky Rex Layne tonight in a 12-round bout at Forbes field.

Both were knocked out in their last fights.

Charles lost his heavy weight crown to aging Jersey Joe Walcott via a seven round knockout. Layne was flattened by Rocky Marciano in six rounds.

Charles pre-Ezzard Charles

dicts he'll win. So does Layne.

But neither will commit themselves how they intend doing it.

Both blame overwork for their poor showings in July.

"He's a good slugger but I think I can keep away from him to win," says the 30-year-old Charles who defended his title eight times in two years before he ran into Walcott's left hook.

"My punches are sharp," adds Charles, "and I intend to win."

Will Be Broadcast

Oddly enough, Layne holds a decision over Jersey Joe and wants to add Charles to his list.

This would boost his title hopes considerably.

A defeat for Charles would all but eliminate him from his scheduled return bout with Jersey Joe.

Barring unfavorable weather, the International Boxing club and the Rooney-McGinley Boxing club, co-promoters of the bout, expect 15,000 persons to ring $75,000 into the till.

The 10 p.m. (EST) bout also will bring $25,000 for telecast rights.

It will be piped by CBS on television and radio except in the Pittsburgh and Johnstown (Pa.) areas.

Charles will get 35 per cent of the net gate, Layne 25 per cent.

The second all-star team, coached by Joe Primeau of Toronto Maple Leafs, came from behind with a third-period goal by Kenney Mosdell of Montreal Canadiens to tie the score after the first team, coached by Montreal's Dick Irvin, had gone ahead twice.

Both teams were chosen at the end of last season in a ballot conducted by the league among sports writers and sportscasters.

Gordie Howe, star right wing for Detroit Red Wings who appeared in his fourth consecutive annual all-star game, scored the only goal of the first period, on a passing play with Milt Schmidt of Boston Bruins and Ted Lindsay, a Detroit linemate.

As it turned out, Howe's goal was the only one scored by one of the original members of either of the two all-star teams.

McDougald Looks Lousy But Rates Splendid Tag By Manager Stengel

NEW YORK — (P) — "He's the lousiest looking ball player in the world, but he's splendid."

"He doesn't look like a ball player at plate, in the field, or on the bases, but he produces everywhere."

Thus did Manager Casey Stengel describe Gil McDougald, 22-year-old infield star of the Yankees, whose grand slam home run yesterday was the key blow in the defending World Champion's 13-1 romp over the Giants in the fifth game of the all-New York World Series.

"Everything he does looks wrong, but it comes out right," said Stengel. "He bats funny but he hits like heck. He's got a peculiar way of throwing but his arm is strong and accurate. He runs like a pacer but he is fast and knows how to run the bases. He's only a rookie but he's done as much for me as any of my veterans."

A goodly number of persons in the huge crowd that watched the Yankees grab a three-to-two game lead snickered when McDougald assumed his odd stance at the plate.

Those who had never seen him before gaped when young Gil got in position, his left toe pointing straight toward the mound, his body leaning halfway over the plate, his rear stuck out like the back bumper of a car, and his bat held at a 90-degree angle from his body.

Even Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants couldn't have thought too much of the kid since he ordered Larry Jansen to hand an intentional base-filling pass to Johnny Mize to get at this snub-nosed, freckle-faced redhead. That was in the third inning.

Why does the telephone

train operators to pronounce words a different way?

Why do they say "fi-iv" instead of "five,"
"ni-en" instead of "nine"? And why do they use letters sometimes instead of words?

O	— OH
ONE	— WUN
TWO	— TOO
THREE	— TH-R-EE
FOUR	— FO-ER
FIVE	— FI-IV
SIX	— SIKS

Here's the answer:

"Five" sounds like "nine,"
so training operators to say
"fi-iv" and "ni-en" helps prevent wrong numbers, saves time on the line, and avoids an extra call to get the right number.

Code letters save long sentences. Instead of saying to another operator:
"About that call on which you tried to reach Mr. Jones in Chicago, we have Mr. Jones on the line now," operators say, "W. H. in Chicago."

Saying words a different way, and using code letters, may save only seconds. But multiply those seconds by the millions of calls Michigan Bell operators handle every day, and the savings become enormous. Without them, it would take more circuits, more switchboards and more operators. With them, the cost of handling calls is kept down. And that helps keep down the cost of telephone service. It's one of the many ways in which—
